

Eskişehir Osmangazi Üniversitesi
Sosyal Bilimler
Enstitüsü

T.C.

ESKİŞEHİR OSMANGAZI UNIVERSITY

INSTITUTE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

Ph.D. Program

Purpose of the program: To deepen and specialize in one of the fields of historical problematics, periods and geographies within the understanding of universal history; to adapt past experiences to the present; To be able to offer solutions to current problems encountered.

Importance of the program: Illuminating the dark spots in national and local scale historical studies; Developing new and current perspectives on historical events; Ensuring the correct positioning of Turkish history within the universal civilization; Strengthening the position of Turkish historiography with in-depth and qualified history research; Bringing Turkish historians to a competitive level among universal history studies.

Application requirements: To graduate from one of the History Department Master's with Thesis (within the field) or Humanities and Social Sciences (out of the field) Master's with Thesis. "Scientific Preparation" will be applied in case of graduating from a non-field Master's program with a thesis. ALES and YDS scores must be at least 55.

Courses in the program content: Research Methods in Social Sciences and Publication Ethics, Turkish Education History, Archival Resources and Diplomacy, Enlightenment in Europe and the Birth of the Modern State, Single Party Administration in Turkey, Balkans Under Ottoman Domination, XIX. Change in Ottoman Bureaucracy in the Century, History of Ottoman Institutions, State and Organization in the Steppe, Classical Ottoman Law, Reception Process in Ottoman Law, Urbanism in the Ottoman Empire, Foundation System in the Ottoman Empire, Politics.

Skills gained and academic accumulation: A good grasp of the dynamics that shaped the early modern ages; able to read well the movements and currents that shape the modern world; able to penetrate directly into the sources of research periods; who knows the language and knows the outside world well; able to follow the domestic and foreign literature and agenda related to their field; To train innovative and competitive researchers and historians who can change and direct this agenda when appropriate.

Graduation requirements: To be successful in the compulsory and elective courses that must be taken in the History Department of the Doctorate Program; take at least 10 courses and 1 seminar course; to complete 240 ECTS credits in total; To be found successful by the Thesis Jury with the PhD Thesis submitted and defended within the legal time limit.

Post-graduation work opportunities: Those who have completed this program can work as Research Assistant, Lecturer, Dr. They can be employed as Faculty Members. They can work as specialists in museums and archives.

Ph.D. Program Objectives

PO1	To have a universal understanding of history.
PO2	Specializing in one of the historical periods and/or geographies.
PO3	Specializing in theories of history.
PO4	To train people who have professional competence at academic level in the field of history.
PO5	To train people who have professional competence in the field of history.

Economics Ph.D. Program Learning Outcomes

LO1	Adapting past experiences to the present.
LO2	To be able to offer solutions to current problems encountered.
LO3	To have the competence to apply for academic job postings at the doctoral level.
LO4	To have the competence to apply for job postings at the expert level.

History of the Republic of Turkey Master's Program

General Description: The History Department, which was established within the body of Eskişehir Osmangazi University on August 18, 1993 within the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, carries out the activities of the History of the Republic of Turkey Master's Program under the Social Sciences Institute of Eskişehir Osmangazi University, which was established on 18.08.1993.

Admission and Registration Conditions: Certificate of license; To have obtained at least 55 from the relevant branch of the Academic Personnel and Graduate Education Entrance Examination (ALES); To have at least 55 in the Graduate Science Examination.

Rules on Recognition of Prior Learning: Recognition of the courses that the student has taken and succeeded while enrolled in a graduate program of another university, the application showing the course content and transcript after enrolling in the same graduate program at Eskişehir Osmangazi University, the recommendation of the advisor, the opinion of the department chair and the decision of the institute board of directors. The courses taken by the students participating in the exchange programs from the host university are considered as elective or compulsory courses.

Qualification Requirements and Rules: 2 years, 2 semesters in 1 year, 16 weeks per semester, 120 ECTS.

Purpose of the Program: Closely following the developments in Turkey and the world, knowing the historical origins of these developments, having the ability to look at events with an academic depth, sensitive to national and global events, internalizing the objectivity and critical approach, having the knowledge of sources and the ability to use the sources correctly, and equipped to evaluate the latest developments in historiography in the world. To train historians with

Key Program Outcomes

- To know and analyze Turkey's political, economic and cultural elements
- To be aware of the changes and transformations that Turkey has gone through from the Ottoman period to the Republic and to establish the necessary connections.
- To have an idea about the development of Turkish political thought from the Ottoman period to the Republic of Turkey and to be able to make original comments.
- To be familiar with the socio-cultural and economic structure of modern Turkey and to be able to analyze this structure.
- Being able to read the last period of Ottoman Turkish and find it in archives researches with this skill.
- To have a good grasp of local developments in the history of the Republic of Turkey and to make connections by making socio-political comparisons
- To produce academic articles and to give seminars.

Courses in the Program: Research Methods and Ethics in Social Sciences, Social Life in the Republic of Turkey, Kemalist Thought System, Turkish Innovation History, Turkish Democracy History, National Struggle History.

Employment Profiles of Graduates: The relevant Master's Degree enables the graduate to engage in various occupations associated with the field of historiography.

History of the Republic of Turkey Master's Program Objectives

PO1	To have a historical understanding of the Republic of Turkey.
PO2	Specializing in a period of the History of the Republic of Turkey.
PO3	Specializing in theories of history.
PO4	To train people who have professional competence at academic level in the field of history.
PO5	To train people who have professional competence in the field of history.

History of the Republic of Turkey Master's Program Learning Outcomes

LO1	Evaluating economic problems in the light of theories and developing solutions to these problems
LO2	Reviewing the economic literature and providing data from various economic databases
LO3	Building econometric models, developing and testing hypotheses
LO4	Using computer softwares effectively in the data analysis process
LO5	Cooperation and effectiveness in teamwork
LO6	Ability to conduct independent research in the field of economics
LO7	Ethical behaviors in the process of scientific research and business practice
LO8	Effectiveness in reporting and verbally presenting scientific research results

Contemporary History Master's Program

General Description: The History Department, which was established within the body of Eskişehir Osmangazi University on August 18, 1993 within the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, carries out the activities of the Modern History Master's Program under the Social Sciences Institute of Eskişehir Osmangazi University, which was established on 18.08.1993.

Admission and Registration Conditions: Certificate of license; To have obtained at least 55 from the relevant branch of the Academic Personnel and Graduate Education Entrance Examination (ALES); To have at least 55 in the Graduate Science Examination.

Rules on Recognition of Prior Learning: Recognition of the courses that the student has taken and succeeded while enrolled in a graduate program of another university, the application showing the course content and transcript after enrolling in the same graduate program at Eskişehir Osmangazi University, the recommendation of the advisor, the opinion of the department chair and the decision of the institute board of directors. The courses taken by the students participating in the exchange programs from the host university are considered as elective or compulsory courses.

Qualification Requirements and Rules: 2 years, 2 semesters in 1 year, 16 weeks per semester, 120 ECTS.

Purpose of the Program: Closely following the developments in Turkey and the world, knowing the historical origins of these developments, having the ability to look at events with an academic depth, sensitive to national and global events, internalizing the objectivity and critical approach, having the knowledge of sources and the ability to use the sources correctly, and equipped to evaluate the latest developments in historiography in the world.

Key Program Outcomes:

- To know and analyze the political, economic and cultural developments in the Modern Age
- To be familiar with the changes and transformations that the Ottoman Empire went through from the French Revolution to its collapse and to be able to establish the necessary connections.
- To have an idea about the development of Ottoman Turkish political thought in the Modern Age and to be able to make original comments.
- To be aware of the socio-cultural and economic structure of the modern Ottoman society and state and to be able to analyze this structure.
- To be able to read Ottoman Turkish of the Modern Age and to be able to find it in research in archives with this skill.
- To have a good grasp of local developments in the contemporary Ottoman history and to make connections by making socio-political comparisons
- To produce academic articles and to give seminars.

Courses in the Program: Research Methods and Ethics in Social Sciences, Political History, Diplomatic, Turkish Legal History, History Methodology, Ottoman Domination in the Middle East and North Africa, Ottoman Renewal History

Employment Profiles of Graduates: The relevant Master's Degree enables the graduate to engage in various occupations associated with the field of historiography.

Contemporary History Master's Program Objectives

PO1	To have a historical understanding on Contemporary History.
------------	---

PO2	Specializing in a geography and a period of Contemporary History.
PO3	Specializing in theories of history.
PO4	To train people who have professional competence at academic level in the field of history.
PO5	To train people who have professional competence in the field of history.

Contemporary History Master's Program Learning Outcomes

LO1	To know and analyze the political, economic and cultural developments in the Modern Age.
LO2	To know and analyze the political, economic and cultural developments in the Modern Age.
LO3	To have an idea about the development of Ottoman Turkish political thought in the Modern Age and to be able to make original comments.

New Ages History Master's Program

Purpose of the Program: Will be able to comprehend all aspects and in depth the important transformations that took place in the New Ages, when the foundations of the modern world were laid; with this understanding, they will be able to analyze the modern world in a healthier way; has adopted scientific methods, consistency and ethical perspective, and is open to innovations; equipping themselves with the methods and skills of the age they live in; is to raise students and researchers who are curious, diligent and concerned about progress. It is hoped that this will contribute to the advancement of Turkish culture and civilization; It is foreseen that it will contribute to the enrichment of the universal culture and civilization.

Importance of the Program: To better demonstrate the role Turkish culture and civilization played in the shaping and rise of modern Western culture and civilization; A better understanding of the effects of the Turkish heritage in Eastern Europe and the Balkan geography on today's historical geography; better analysis of the historical roots of today's national cultures and universal values.

Application Requirements: ALES 55; YDS 40; To graduate from the fields of Humanities and Social Sciences (Scientific Preparation program is applied for applications from outside of these fields)

Courses in the Content of the Program: Ottoman State Organization; Resources in Ottoman History Studies I-II; Ottoman History I-II (1299-1600/1600-1789); Economic Structure in the Ottoman Empire; Urban History Studies; Ottoman Campaign History and Logistics; Ottoman Archive Documents I-II; and Research Methods in Social Sciences and Publication Ethics.

Skills Gained and Academic Accumulation: A good grasp of the dynamics that shaped the early modern ages; able to read well the movements and currents that shape the modern world; able to penetrate directly into the sources of research periods; who knows the language and knows the outside world well; able to follow the domestic and foreign literature and agenda related to their field; To train innovative and competitive researchers and historians who can change and direct this agenda when appropriate.

Graduation Requirements: To be successful in the compulsory and elective courses that must be taken in the Department of Modern History; to take at least 9 courses and 1 seminar course; to complete 128 ECTS credits in total; To be found successful by the Thesis Jury, with the Master's Thesis submitted and defended within the legal time limit.

Post-Graduation Work Opportunities: Those who complete this program receive a Postgraduate Diploma. History graduates can also benefit from the rights that those with a bachelor's degree can enjoy. Teachers, archivists, academics, etc. they may be.

Modern History Master's Program Objectives

PO1	To have an understanding of history on the History of the New Age.
PO2	Specializing in a geography and a period of Early Modern History.
PO3	Specializing in theories of history.
PO4	To train people who have professional competence at academic level in the field of history.
PO5	To train people who have professional competence in the field of history.

Modern History Master's Program Educational Outcomes

LO1	To know and analyze the political, economic and cultural developments in the New Age.
LO2	To be aware of the changes and transformations that the Ottoman Empire has undergone in the New Age and to establish the necessary connections.
LO3	To have an idea about the development of Ottoman political thought in the New Age and to be able to make original comments.
LO4	To be familiar with the socio-cultural and economic structure of the Ottoman society and state in the New Age and to be able to analyze this structure.

L05	To be able to read Ottoman Turkish of the New Age period and to be able to find it in researches in archives with this skill.
L06	To have a good grasp of local developments in the modern Ottoman history and to establish connections by making socio-political comparisons.
L07	To produce academic articles and to give seminars.